READERS' FAVORITE 5-STAR REVIEW AWARD

"The first thing that jumps out on opening The Believer's Journal for Everyday Faith is that it feels like a ton of homework. A lot. And this is coming from a parent who just had to homeschool for over a year. What makes Kerry Evelyn's book more satisfying than a Zoom call and moaning kids is that it is just for me. It is mine. It is how I can cut through the chatter and commune with God. It grounds me and brings me peace. It has me journaling all that is heavy on my mind and in my heart, and all that is light and beautiful. It's a date with God that we get to have one-on-one. I found myself looking forward to it and, by the end, I felt whole ... and I wanted more of Evelyn's homework."
